100-seat lounge proposed for lower Main Street

If the Bethel sewer system gets State approval for additional hook-ups, and if the Bethel Planning Board approves a plan for a new 48-foot by 96-foot building on lower Main Street, the town might have a restaurant and lounge.

The project, called the "Depot," is the brainchild of Joe Gaidis, owner of Martha's Restaurant. Mr. Gaidis had presented an earlier version of the plan to the board last month. That version envisioned only an enlarged Martha's, a few office spaces, and an antiques loft.

In the version presented to the board last Wednesday night, Mr. Gaidis said he would like to develop a 100-seat lounge in the basement of the proposed two-story building. On the first floor would be the 100-seat restaurant plus a number of office spaces and a 100-seat second floor—as originally planned—should be the antiques loft, where various antique dealers would be invited to display their wares.

The present Martha's Restaurant would be razed to make room for an extensive parking area in front of the proposed building. With parking in the front as well as in the rear, there would be a total of 99 parking spaces. Mr. Gaidis calculated that the Site Plan Review Ordinance formula for parking spaces would dictate 98 spaces.

'The plan can't go forward unless the sewer thing is resolved.'

Joe Gaidis

Whereas the present restaurant has just one bathroom, the new building would have a total of six. Given the state of affairs with the municipal sewer [the Town has yet to come to an agreement with the State on paying a fine taken along to start repairs while taking on new sewer customers], the new bathrooms would currently present a problem. "The plan can't go forward unless the sewer thing is resolved," Mr. Gaidis told the board.

For the time being, that's as far as the discussion got.

The board also heard a brief presentation by John Wheeler, the prospective owner of Charles Merrill's Charlie's Gulf station, on Railroad Street. Mr. Wheeler said the immediate plans are to operate the station as it has been operated, although the fuel oil business at the company's Main Street location would be moved to the new location.

Mr. Wheeler said he has no immediate plans to develop a convenience store, as some have speculated. The station will continue to offer a small variety of food and snack items, as it does now.

72 graduate at Gould Academy

At Gould Academy's Commencement Exercises, held Saturday in Bingham Auditorium, Dr. Michael Broom, of Johns Hopkins University, told the members of Gould's 153rd graduating class that each of them was extraordinary in his or her own way and that nothing is more important than to recognize the "extraordinariness" in all people.

Dr. Broom's message struck a strong chord with the senior class, many of whom had worked with him during the National Training Laboratory (NTL) program held at Gould in March.

Valedictorian Bryce Gartrell's address made reference to the strong impact that programs such as NTL had made on the Class of 1989, and how the experience of the class was truly one of a kind. He also noted that living in such close proximity with one another day in and day out tends to strip away a person's superficiality and reveal an inner reality—to friend and to oneself.

Following the presentation of the commencement awards, Alan Ordway, president of the Gould Academy Board of Trustees, granted the diplomas, with Headmaster William Clough.

Reverend Jean Bass delivered the invocation and benediction, while Mary Valentine played the organ processional and recessional.

The senior award winners, aside from the valedictorian, were as follows:

Honor plaque (average of 90 or above for their year) at Gould: Bethany Allen, Bryce Gartrell, Jason Kinnoun, Mark Stimpson, Alexander Penn.

National Honor Society: Bethany Allen, Courtney Burnell, Paige Christie, Heidi Dixon, Amy Ford, Bryce Gartrell, Todd Kirm, Laura Ordway, Andrew Spofford.

Departmental book prizes were awarded as follows:

• English: Paige Christie;
• History: Bryce Gartrell;
• Pre-Calculus: Bryce Gartrell;

• Advanced Biology: Doug von Hollen;

• Honors Chemistry: James Henderson;

• Honors Physics: Heidi Dixon;

• Physics: Mark Stimpson;

• Spanish: Todd Kirm;

• Latin: Mark Stimpson;

• Pottery: Patrice Leary;

• Senior Art: Rebecca Margonelli;

• Performing Arts: Courtney Burnell and Brenna Simpson;

Other awards included:

• Gayle A. Foster Photography Award: Doug von Hollen;

• Frances Hook Scholarship Fund: Amanda Little;

• Art Department Purchase Award: Amanda Little;

• Outstanding Senior Athlete: Bethany Allen and Benjamin Michaud;

• Banker Lacrosse Trophy: Dean Marvin;

• U.S. Naval Academy Selection: James Henderson;

National Hispanic Scholar Award:

Bethany Allen;

Alumni Association Award: Laura

Ordway and Bryce Gartrell;

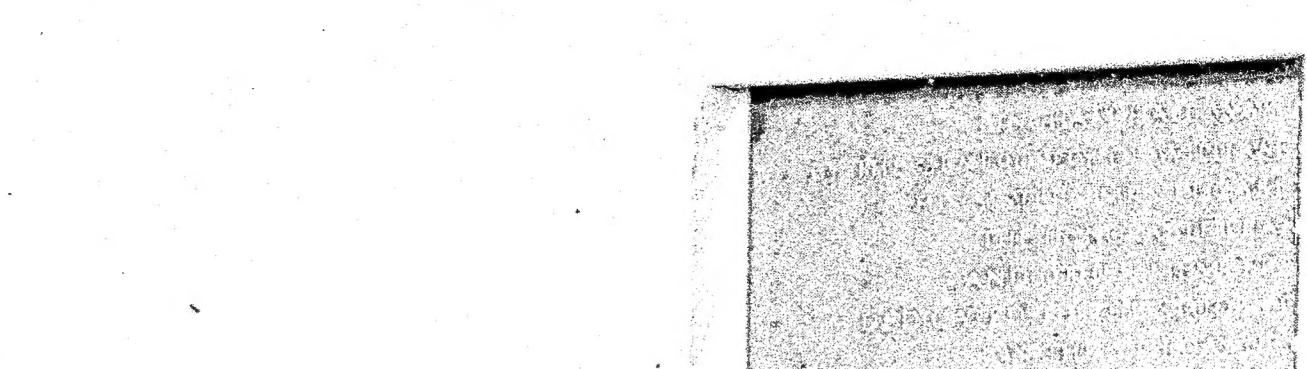

Linwood "Lindy" Lowell Award:

William Daley;

Elwood Ireland Award: Patrice Leary

and Benjamin Michaud;

Headmaster's Bowl: Bryce Gartrell.

EXHILITANT GOULD ACADEMY GRADUATES pour out of Bingham Auditorium following Commencement Exercises Saturday. On the broad lawn in front of the building, members of the Class of 1989 were congratulated by teachers, family and friends. Following a lunch for the Gould community, parents helped their children finish packing, and everyone departed.

Greenwood selectmen terminate the contract of stump dump manager

In an attempt to get a tighter grip on the town's solid waste disposal process,

Greenwood's selectmen are developing new guidelines for the operation of the town's stump dump. As part of this process, they have terminated Norman Millett's contract to manage the facility. The termination becomes effective June 30.

Mr. Millett has managed the stump dump since it was set up in 1985. His contract paid him an hourly wage and allowed him to salvage and sell whatever he could from waste materials left there.

In 1988 he was paid just over $5,000 for operating the dump and for capital improvements he made at the facility.

Marie Bartlett, chairwoman of the Board of Selectmen, said the removal of Mr. Millett from his position was an attempt by the board to develop more effective controls on the town's waste disposal process and costs.

The stump dump has never been properly licensed by the State Department of Environmental Protection, she said, and the selectmen also felt they had insufficient control over its operation.

The board is currently examining its recycling options and attempting to formulate new guidelines for operating the facility, Mrs. Bartlett said.

"We've offered [Mr. Millett] the option of coming in to renegotiate an agreement if he feels he can work within the new guidelines," she said, "but for now we feel it was in the best interest of the town to cancel the current agreement."

The stump dump is never going to be a money maker," she said, "but we've

Newry town meeting approves ordinances and Fire Dept. funds

The twenty five Newry voters who turned out for a special town meeting Tuesday evening took just over an hour to approve all six articles on the meeting warrant.

The articles, all of which were passed unanimously, include the approval of a new sign ordinance for the town, amending a number of existing ordinances, and approval to spend $7500 from the fire department fund for capital equipment items.

The sign ordinance covers all new signs erected from a public way and erected after enactment of the ordinance, and all existing signs which are changed in lettering, size, construction, location, lighting. All such sign now requires approval of the code enforcement officer and payment of a $10 fee.

Lois O'Brien, chairman of the Ordinance Review Committee, described the town's ordinances as an attempt to eliminate large exterior neon signs, excessive signage, overly tall signs and signs which would pose a traffic or safety hazard.

Signs which are inside a window are not covered by the ordinance, he said, even when they are clearly visible outside the building, nor are signs which cannot be seen from the public road.

"If you want to put up a large neon sign out, get it in the barn, that's your business," he said.

Voters also approved revisions of the town's ordinances on general assistance, road standards, building codes and shoreline zoning.

The amended shoreline zoning ordinance now gives the town authority to review proposed bridges or crossings on both the Sunday River and Bear River. Such structures must now be designed by a professional engineer.

A note from the publisher

I'm delighted to see that the Chamber of Commerce is getting involved in the river problem by hosting a forum next week. Invited to speak on the issue of pollution will be local experts, a representative from the paper industry, and a representative from the DODP. This is a forum that everyone should be interested in. Congratulations to the Chamber for sponsoring it.

Petitions are being filled in around town suggesting former Police Officer Rickie Osgood for the vacant police chief's position. As far as I know, Rickie has applied for the position, but there's still time.

Rickie would be a strong candidate in that he's local, he's dedicated, and he's got a few years experience on the local force. It's too early to tell if he would be the best candidate—until all the applications are in—but he would certainly apply at the best. He should certainly apply.

The town manager and selectmen seem to be going along the police chief selection process in a much more direct fashion than the time arrived. Last time, Bob Stearns, town officials turned the process over to the Maine Municipal Association. The process took forever. And since it was all done behind closed doors, townspeople really had no idea what was going on until about eight months and $2,600 later—when the new chief was announced.

This time, the pole crews—assisted by the town crew—got things sorted out, the sewer line replaced, and the pole moved, in just a day.

Town Manager Rodney Lynch says he will be sending CMP II for the work put in by the town crews.

The Citizen will be sending CMP a bill for knocking out the electronic brain of our cutting machine. This happened the day after the sewer was repaired. The crews shut down power to the Cole Block Thursday morning, and when they had started the cable and re-energized us, the did it again. This time, on the 3-phase 220-volt line, putting our 3-phase cutter out of commission. It's still not repaired, so please bear with us if you find we're late delivering a printing job.

Many of you have seen this summer's tourism tabloid (included in last week's Citizen) have commented on the front cover—two canoes paddling down a lovely Androscoggin River.

Androscoggin River? Lovely?

Well, if you don't sniff it, and if you don't look too closely at its color, it is lovely.

Unfortunately, if you drink it, you'll help smelly its fouled waters or taste its tastelessness.

And why is it that way? So the paper companies can pad their profits. Those of us demanding the paper mills clean up their discharges are not saying the mills must go, only that they must not use our rivers as their sewer. It is not theirs to contaminate willfully and without regard for others.

Mary and I have canoeed the Androscoggin the past four summers, and despite its color, odor, and foam, we still prefer it to the Saco, with its crowds and uninteresting landscape. A couple of weeks ago we paddled—as we have in the past—down the Saco, in company with Carol and Dick Cenial. Even with a lunch break on a small island, we made a very quick trip of it—four hours—because the extremely high water was running very fast.

One thing that really drives me up the wall is juvenile behavior, particularly when resorted to by anyone but a juvenile. Whether it's an athlete doing an Iggy shuffle or a politician blaming his problems on the media, I always wonder how these people can have gotten where they are without ever growing up.

Now, right in our own backyard, the wonderful signs of summer have been defaced by vandals. It's a wonder the culprit (or culprits) had the intelligence to know how to get the top of the can of black spray paint.

Everyone wants to have or his 15 minutes of fame, which is fine. But those who are truly good and little regard for the ability of others, often resort to spoiling something in order to leave their own mark on it. "Hi Mom, look at me. I just messed up this sign."

If the culprits are found, I would hope they will be told in no uncertain terms to grow up.

Express yourself in your children's attitudes and tell them when you feel proud of them. Encourage your children to be proud of themselves.

Encourage your children, ease the tension with humor, or show your support emotionally or physically (show of affection; hug). At times, all a child or teenager may need to regain control is a break or sudden show of caring.

Parents need to understand that an angry child needs support and respect. Our actions should be motivated to teach our children and not a desire to punish. Clearly communicate what you expect of your children. Consider what many parents believe: punishment is not the most effective way to tell children our expectations of them. Emphasis should be placed on the good behavior. For example, when a teenager acts responsibly and impresses you, tell them, "I think you are acting so childish and spoiled; I thought you grew up." Or "Act your age."

Parents need to understand that an angry child needs support and respect. Our actions should be motivated to teach our children and not a desire to punish. Clearly communicate what you expect of your children. Consider what many parents believe: punishment is not the most effective way to tell children our expectations of them. Emphasis should be placed on the good behavior. For example, when a teenager acts responsibly and impresses you, tell them, "I think you are acting so childish and spoiled; I thought you grew up." Or "Act your age."

Express yourself in your children's attitudes and tell them when you feel proud of them. Encourage your children to be proud of themselves.

Encourage your children, ease the tension with humor, or show your support emotionally or physically (show of affection; hug). At times, all a child or teenager may need to regain control is a break or sudden show of caring.

Underclass awards presented at Gould

Gould Academy announced its 11th departmental academic award recipient and sports awards winners at the annual underclassman awards ceremony last Tuesday. Headmaster William P. Clough opened the evening of presentations—both academic and athletic—with a reflection on Henry David Thoreau's comment that "it is our responsibility to mold our bodies so that they become worthwhile objects in nature, not instruments for the soul."

Associate Headmaster Dorothy Dresser, presented the academic prizes noting that throughout the year teachers are constantly pushing students to gain new knowledge and they rarely have time to pause and compliment them for their achievements.

Kevin Davis, son of Jay and Nancy Davis, of Bethel, received the school's highest underclass honor, the Edmund J. Vachon Award, given to the member of the junior class who made the greatest contribution to the school and achievement in the community. The award is named for Headmaster Emeritus Edmund J. Vachon, who served Gould from 1940 until 1967.

Davis received the Rensselaer Award, which is given at 1,000 selected secondary schools in the country to the junior with the highest average in Science and Mathematics. He also received the Calculus, Junior English and Junior History awards.

Martin Nevel, of Bethel, was the sophomore to be elected to the National Honor Society, while juniors Kate Chester, Breton White, Jennifer Tabor and Alice Colver were also named.

Departmental awards were given as follows: Freshman English, Susan Candal and Amanda Wight; Sophomore English, Russell Stein; French I, Jennifer Baldwin; French II, Elizabeth Morris; French III, Oren Murphy; Spanish II, Breton White; Spanish III, Gabe House; Latin I, Amanda Wight; Algebra I, Greg Gasser; Geometry, Stephanie Morris; Algebra II, Oren Murphy; Freshman History, Amanda Wight; Sophomore History, Russell Stein; Biology, Martha Newell and Stephanie Morin; Music, Patrick Lingley; Earth Science, Michael Michaud; Chemistry, Monica Burke; Art, Matthew Alexander; Navigation, Andrea Pillsbury; Frances Hook National Art Scholarship Award, Alesia Norling.

NHS honors Telstar's students-of-the-month

The Guidance Office last week announced the National Honor Society's students of the month for April.

Paula Michaud is the senior student-of-the-month. Nominated by her CP Chemistry instructor, Mr. Kersey, she is the daughter of Jerry and Judy Michaud, of Andover. Paula was recognized for her constantly superior work and genuine desire to help others.

Teague Berry, son of Pamela Berry, of Andover, was selected as the junior student-of-the-month by Mr. Teague in his French III class. Mrs. Taylor notes that Teague has always been prompt with his work and it has improved in quality.

Sophomore student-of-the-month is Becky Hanscom. She is the daughter of David and Christine Hanscom, of West Bethel. She has been nominated by her CP English teacher, Mrs. Melville, for her contributions in class, which are thoughtful and intelligent. She was also nominated by her CP World Studies II teacher, Mr. Morton, for her outstanding effort to the 90 on a 12-page assignment.

Brandi Brindley has been selected as the freshman student-of-the-month. She is the daughter of Noreen Russo, of Woodstock. She has been nominated by her Math 9 teacher, Mr. Keane, for her 31-point increase in grade. This demonstrates that Brandi can get anything done if she puts her mind to it.

Special recognition:

Seniors: Shaw York, O.S.L.C.; Mickey Monzo, psychology; George Hayes, 12 VP English; Jamie Blake, AP English.

Juniors: Stephanie Percival, CP World War I; Dan Kuzik, O.S.L.C.

Sophomores: Terese Connell, 10 CP English; Freshman: David Bishop, Health; Shilo Hutchins, 9 English; Solid Buchanan, World Studies I.

LOVELL ARTS FAIR AUG. 19

The 14th annual arts and crafts fair, sponsored by the Lovell Arts & Crafts Material Fair, will be held at the New Suncook School, on Rte. 5 in Lovell, Aug. 19, rain or shine.

The high quality and evident talent in the artistry and craftsmanship of many objects shown in this all-juried fair is expected to attract regular patrons from many parts of New England as well as summer visitors from farther afield. Its reputation has spread widely since the first fair was held in a local resident's barn in 1975.

Many favorite artists, who enjoy wide reputations, return each year, such as Ken Kantro, well known for his work in pewter and silver, Steven Zeh, a basket maker, and Andra Bijhouwer, a weaver, who are among the 50 exhibitors.

In keeping with the original aim of this fair, it continues to bring as well, new and talented artists to the Lovell area.

They will offer a great variety of items including ceramics and pottery, dried flower arrangements, needle works of all kinds, jewelry, silver, pewter and porcelain, wood carvings, water colors, to name a few.

Audrey Clout, of Lovell, is chairwoman of the fair, ably assisted by many other members of the library and local residents.

Used books will be on sale at the library, which is nearby on Rte. 5, during the fair. This includes a varied selection of used books in good condition.

Drawings for a raffle, articles made by exhibitors will be held during the afternoon. Tickets may be purchased locally in advance or before the drawings at the fair itself.

There is no admission charge to the public. For further information write Box 105, Lovell, 04054, or telephone 207-925-3177, weekdays, 10-2, Monday and Thursday, 6-8 p.m.

Visitors to the fair, unfamiliar with Lovell, are encouraged to take time to explore the town itself. The most natural beauty includes panoramic views of the mountains of western Maine and Lake Kezar, which has been compared to some of the most beautiful lakes in the world. It also has many fine old homes. A recently published volume on the architectural history of the county describes over 49 structures in the various parts of Lovell, with illustrations of 22 of them.

AT SABBATHDAY LAKE

The United Society of Shakers is pleased to offer the public a rare opportunity to photograph one of the most scenic spots in Maine. Using the Sabbathday Lake Shaker Village as subject matter, workshop participants will explore various approaches to architectural photography: detail, form versus function and the relationship of buildings to environment. Emphasis will be on building exteriors, but there will be time for interior work as well.

The instructor for the class will be Fred DeWaters, a photographer from Portland. Mr. DeWaters teaches photography at the University of Maine at Augusta and also conducts many workshops through the Maine Touring Artists Program. For the past three years, he has been making an extensive photographic study of the Sabbathday Lake Shaker community. Exhibitions of this work have been displayed at the Portland School of Art, Bates College and Andover Shaker Village.

Brindley has been selected as the sophomore student-of-the-month. She is the daughter of Noreen Russo, of Woodstock. She has been nominated by her Math 9 teacher, Mr. Keane, for her 31-point increase in grade. This demonstrates that Brandi can get anything done if she puts her mind to it.

A government which calls a woman a criminal because her two-day-old baby died supposedly from the drugs she ingested before the birth, yet pays for and encourages women to destroy children by the millions while they are in the womb, calling them parts of her body thus subject to whatever she wishes to do, is very contradictory. Is it murder to kill a fetus by what the mother ingests but not a sharp instrument, saline solution or other means? We pay big sums to those who kill healthy, unborn fetuses and condemn a man who removes life support from a brain dead child so he will not continue to suffer. And we call ourselves civilized.

Tri-Town Rescue

Welcome to summer. It has come so fast. Congratulations to Dan Hammer, he is a Tri-Town member who is graduate of the year and a tri-athlete. The service wishes him luck as he pursues a nursing degree at Central Maine Medical Center, in Winslow, in the fall.

The Auxiliary raised $200 at a public supper last Saturday. The bike-a-thon raised over $600 in pledges. Thanks to everyone who helped make those fund-raising events successful.

The Auxiliary will meet Monday, June 5, at the Tri-Town Rescue barn, at Trap Corner. New members are always welcome. They will discuss details of the upcoming calendar sale and the July 4th sale.

Janice Kaufman exhibits paintings at new gallery

June 1 marks the opening of Upton Playhouse Antiques' second season and will celebrate the opening of a new art gallery which will show the renovated theater space with antique and collectibles from many area antiques dealers and local residents. The shop and gallery will be open six days a week, from noon to 7 p.m., closed Tuesdays.

A unique and intimate setting for art work as well as antiques, the Upton Playhouse Antiques shop and gallery is located on Broad Street, Bethel opposite the Bethel Inn in what was once the home of the Hon. David Hammons, c. 1850. Come to see an elegant music room and theater built in 1914 by William J. Upton, traveling Chautauqua shows, chamber music, poetry readings, art and Punch and Judy shows were offered as entertainment here until about 1925.

Some time in the mid-1930s the building was turned into a large garage to house the owner's Rolls Royce cars. And so it remained for 50 years until 1983 when current owner Sally Rollinson began restoration of the theater.

Today this building, now known as the Upton Playhouse, retains some of its original features, such as the stage with its proscenium arch, ornate brass chandeliers, fine quality woodwork and paneling, the fireplace with tragedy and comedy in detailed bas relief, and the lovely tall windows overlooking the gardens of the Hammons House.

Featured this season in the theater will be the work of Janice Kaufman, of Bethel and Coplebrook, N.H. She describes her life and work as follows:

"I was born a few weeks before the bombing of Pearl Harbor. My coming-of-age was set against the social and political landscape of the '40s. The world of the '70s and '80s has been characterized by turmoil, violence and anxiety about the environment. In spite of—or perhaps because of—this sense of upheaval, I seek and find in the act of painting an experience of harmony."

"I have always been an artist. My response to the world has been to draw and paint it, which is what I have been doing since childhood and have continued to do while studying art history at Duke University, working for the New York State Council on the Arts and teaching art."

"Although I spent many years doing large documentary canvases depicting some of the cataclysmic events of the '70s and early '80s, I have more recently found myself drawn to images that come out of everyday life and my particular environment, which has for 10 years been rural New England."

"As a portrait artist I am always drawn to the particular individual—this person, place, animal or time of day—and the feeling each image evokes. My work is really personal. I would not paint a subject that did not inspire strong feelings in me."

"Of course, what is right in front of us is compounded of a mixture of what is there and our dreams; if my work has an element of fantasy, that is because like everyone else, I inhabit a world of

The "Walk-a-thon" fundraising event for physical education raised $162.50. The money will be used to support after-school programs.

Top money earner was Hanna Seames, who did a great job. Other students who raised money were Erica Carson, Brian Inman, Parker Gray, Cathy Morgan, Robert Chapman, Wade Luxton, Kate Nickerson, Brett Harvey, Warren Thurston, Crystal Bonney and Ms. Howe's class. Thanks to all.

Fifth Grade students have been very involved with science projects and lemons.

On Thursday, May 18, the students had the annual science fair. The work the students did was phenomenal. Each student was responsible for a report, a poster and a model.

Mrs. Wheeler's class gave special recognition to the following students: First place, Adam Luxton for his study of dogs; second place, Jodi Barnes for her study on plants; third place, Joel Dakin for his work on gears; and fourth place, Jessica Coolidge for her study of paper.

Mr. Hartford's class gave special recognition to the following students: First place, Jeff Angevine for his work on light; second place, Cindy Wheeler for her study of clouds; third place, Anneliese Bass for her study of the fetus; and honorable mention, Kevin Marshall for his project on dinosaurs.

Miss Newcomb's class gave special recognition to the following students: First place, Jeff Angevine for his work on light; second place, Cindy Wheeler for her study of clouds; third place, Leah Bonneau for her project on horses; and honorable mention, Amanda Sysko for her study on sheep.

On Monday, May 22, the 5th Grade science classes went to the Conservation Campus in Bryant Pond. They worked in groups and went from station to station. The stations included forestry, wildlife, web of life and soils.

After which they played environmental games before moving to their stations. One was called "Oh deer, oh deer," and the other was called "Migration to extinction."

Many thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kuzik for coming in to teach each Grade 5 class on Thursday, May 18. Mr. Kuzik brought along many neat specimens, in addition to dozens of shark teeth. Each student received a shark's tooth to keep.

Andover

East Andover

For years some unknown person has been placing Princess Molycock's grave in the Andover cemetery. It has come to our attention that the person who has been putting the flowers on the grave is Helen Chase. At least one Andover resident wants to thank her for doing so.

TO THE CLASS OF 1989

School Day Memories

As we reach out our hand/the diploma we grasp/While we think of the memories/Often years in the past years fill our hearts/Because it's all gone/We're starting a new life/We have to move on./We hope friends will keep in touch/As the years pass by/Although it hurts inside/We'll try not to cry/We think of kindergarten/And our first day/Now we've reached the end/We're going away/How do you say good-bye/To friends who mean so much/Will there be time/To sincerely keep in touch? You'll always have the memories/Of your school years from day one/Don't think of school as ending/—Think a new life has begun.

Memories are very precious to all of us. As parents and friends of the Class of 1989, we will also be reminiscing about your school days at SAD #44. With a few tears and fond memories, we will say goodbye to a great group of kids.

Thank you for allowing us to share in those memories. Your love and friendship has meant a lot to both of us.

Congratulations and God bless you all.

Ronald McDonald's presence for the kids, as well as the Sesame Street characters. We are looking for volunteers to fit in the Sesame Street costumes. Please call the Chamber office if you are interested. 824-2282.

In addition, the Chamber is coordinating the Woodsmen's competition for the local woodcutters. The sponsor for this is Boise Cascade. Needless to say, the Chamber is a very active participant in the planning and promotion of Molycock Day.

The Chamber has agreed to participate with the American Lung Association of Maine in planning a mountain bike trek here in the Bethel area. Sept. 16 and 17. We will be putting on a pancake breakfast and spaghetti supper for the trekkers and the public. More details on this forthcoming.

This meeting was the last one for the existing board. Many thanks go to the retiring board members: Irene Mills and Wende Gray for their dedicated time and service. We will miss them. The following folks have been elected to the board:

We will be in Lewiston last Friday night to watch the girls in their dance recital.

The little ones are so cute when they perform and well worth the money it costs. They were glad to have us there to see them perform. It makes them feel better to have special folks there. They all did a good job, but we didn't stay very late. The recital went on for hours after we left. I am sure, after seeing the program. There are so many enrolled and some of them do more than one dance, which takes time. We enjoyed what we gladly took in.

How beautiful out. The apple blossoms are out. Bleeding heart, lily of the valley and the trees have now leafed out with their various shades of green. I have not seen any ducks in the river since the flood, so hope that they went elsewhere and didn't get drowned or killed. The flowering crab in front of Homer and Edie Smith's house is a mass of lovely pink flowers. Up by the turnout, Frank has grafted so one side of a flowering crab is light pink and the other side is a much darker shade of pink.

"Frank's" brother comes home with his wife and kids and I put up in the hammock in the back grove. Saturday, George Gibson went to a classmate's wedding. Then, after "Frankie" and Theresa left to take Theresa home, May 21, I drove to Readfield to visit my sister Marion and Ben Tucker Jr. Her son Robert and family visited, as well as her daughter Roxanne and family. Came home May 22 and the weather was nice, ped off at my friend Ruth Gouin's, in Oxford, and we had a lovely visit. Kristen looks trip to North Bridgton to see Dr. Shedd. On the way home stopped off to see my sister Iva in Norway, and Thursday had to go to Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway to have tests. While waiting I saw another old friend, Marion Brown, so we had a chance to catch up on happenings.

George and Betty Gilbert and Erlind Waterhouse went to South Arm, Fishing

Shoreline Inn to have supper before supper Thursday night.

Amy Hannan went to an overnight birthday party for Shilo Hutchins, May 20.

The same day, Dan and Sally Hannan and Elaine Hutchins went to Mexico to watch Amy and Mary Beth Hannan and Shilo Hutchins play softball. Telstar won.

Frank and Sid Murphy went to Sid's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Greenberg, at Dracut, Mass., May 19 to 21. Saturday, Shirley and Greenberg went to the University of New Hampshire, in Durham, N.H., to see Sid's nephew David graduate. Guest speaker was Alex Haley, author of "Roots."

Homer and Edie Smith had a Sunday dinner guests, to help celebrate Andy's birthday, Shannon Fuller and Dennis and Kayla Smith.

May 20, Bob Howe and family attended a birthday party for Suzanne Howe at Bud and Joan Howe's. May 21, Sue Howe attended a birthday party of his classmate, Anna McGrath, in the East Bethel Pond, and the same evening.

Homer attended the mother-daughter banquet with Evelyn Reed at the Methodist Church. A delicious buffet supper was prepared by Merton Brown and put on by the men of the church.

Jean Coolidge stayed overnight Monday with Sylvia Benson at Sunset Rebekah supper meeting. The lodge also had inspection and friendship night. The Thursday before Sylvia Benson spent the night with her daughter, Sharon Kimball, of Waterville, and came back Friday.

Sylvia's granddaughter, Anita, was home from Boydton College.

The Board of Selectmen met last Tuesday night at the Newry Community Center, home of the Solid Waste Committee, not with them. Several options for dealing with the solid waste problem are being studied. It is expected that an informational meeting will be held prior to July 1, to inform Newry residents what will be done after the Bethel landfill is closed to Newry on June 30. It is expected that door-to-door pick-up will be used, with the waste trucked to some out-of-town disposal site.

Much of the morning was spent in tax assessing and the afternoon was spent inventorying personal property at the Sunday River Inn. Report and checking condominiums there.

Work is progressing on rerouting the Newry/Andrews West Surplus line. The assessors planned to work on assessing last Friday. Much of the work has been completed and is in the computer.

Gaye Ferrente, of Newcastle, visited her grandmother, Mary Tripp, and mother, Suzanne Hayner, recently.

Dr. and Mrs. William Carey, of Framingham, Mass., visited relatives in the area recently.

Several attended the public hearing on proposed ordinances changes at the town office Monday evening, May 22. The Solid Waste Committee and Growth Management Committee met at the town office May 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Glover, of Hollis, spent several days at their camp last week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Paine and Methyl Paine, Mechanic Falls, were at their camp last weekend and called on Amy and Roger Hanscom.

The Newry Fire Department was called out at about 1 a.m. last Wednesday to a structure on Route 36. The small cabin, owned by Richard Moore, of New Jersey, sustained damage to the gable end and roof at the rear of the building, according to Newry firefighter Willard Wight. There was also some smoke and water damage. Newry responded with two tankers/pumpers; the Bethel Fire Department also responded. No cause for the fire was given. The building was unoccupied. There was no estimate of damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Glover, of Hollis, called on Amy and Roger Hanscom Wednesday.

The Ladies Circle will meet at the home of Freda Robertson, June 5, at 7:30 p.m.

Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark, Thelma Lowery, Louise Tetley, Gilberte Seelye, Eleanor Davis and Sylvia Wight were in Rumford bowling May 23. Thelma was high on single, beating Louise by two points. Louise was high on triple.

On Saturday, June 3, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., the Windy Valleys Downhill Club will hold its annual spring sale across from Bear River Cabin. Anyone interested in purchasing items please call Sylvie at 824-2228. Rain date will be Sunday, June 4, same time and place. Hope to see you all there. Bring your spare change. Tickets will be sold on a painting by Sue Wight, which will be displayed at the sale—raffle to be drawn in October.

Gould announces NHS inductees, and dorm proctors for 1989-1990

New inductees to the 1989 Gould Academy National Honor Society were named and student leaders for the 1989-90 school year were announced last week at an all-school assembly in Bingham auditorium.

Nomined to the National Honor Society for the first time were Jen Tabor, of East Corinth; Andrew Spofford, of Bedford, Mass.; Alice Colyer, of Topsham; Kate Chester, of Bar Harbor; Bretton White, of Hampstead, N.H.; Heidi Dixon, of Bath; and Courtney Burnell, of Harrison.

Next year's 15 dorm proctors, who comprise the school's student leadership program, were also announced. Their selection was based on an evaluation of their involvement in the school body and the faculty. The students were rated on leadership, dependability, fairness and initiative. Their responsibilities will include assisting faculty in the supervision of dormitories, initiating student activities and leading the fall new student orientation camping trips.

Next year's proctors are Matt Karatz, of Los Angeles, Calif.; Blair Wood, of North Scituate, Mass.; Paul Koubek, of Damariscotta; Marty Hacker, of New York, N.Y.; Jacques Perolle, of Wakefield, R.I.; Karen Fortier, of Bethel; Garry Murphy, of Walpole, Tenn., Penn., of Boston, Mass.; Laura Hunter, of Hampstead, N.H.; Jill Shapiro, of Falmouth; Jen Tabor, of East Corinth; Alice Colyer, of Topsham; and Kate Chester, of Bar Harbor.

State increases quota for any-deer permits

Commissioner Bill Vail and the Fish and Wildlife Advisory Council adopted Maine's 1989 deer hunting season dates and any-deer permit quotas at their recent meeting at the Augusta Civic Center.

The commissioner and council set the regular firearms season on deer to run from Oct. 30 to Nov. 25, preceded by Maine-residents-only day, on Oct. 23. The special archery season will be Oct. 1-27; and the muzzleloader season, Nov. 27 to Dec. 2.

The commissioner and council also accepted the Fish and Wildlife department's recommendation to increase the number of any-deer permits to 55,800 in 1989, up about 10,000 from 1988. That number of permits is expected to result in the killing of about 8,400 adult does, an increase of 1,400 over the total of 7,000 adult does killed last year.

Wildlife biologist Gerald Lavigne explained that "the increase in any-deer permits in some districts reflects higher average deer populations." He added that the number of does allowed to be killed will remain sufficiently conservative to allow for an additional increase in the herd. This reflects a departmental strategy to allow the herd to increase at a controlled rate.

"It is our intention to maintain the size and condition of Maine deer and not merely produce a more abundant population at the expense of quality."

Lavigne adds, "In three districts, increases in any-deer permits were not recommended. District 17 in eastern Maine will remain bucks-only for the seventh consecutive year. Permit allocations in districts 18 and 19 were reduced slightly and deer numbers are expected to increase at a slightly higher rate than previously. The real strength of the any-deer permit system is that it allows us to refine the deer harvest in individual management districts without adversely affecting adjacent districts."

In other action, the council approved by a 6-2 vote the purchase of a tract of land known as the Dickwood Lake property in the township of Eagle Lake, in Aroostook County, with monies from the department's wildlife habitat fund.

The purchase price for the approximately 4,000-acre tract was $700,000. The owner of the property is Emile LeBeau.

The Advisory Council also elected Dale Speed of Princeton, as its chairman for the coming year. Alanson B. Noble, of Ossifield, was elected vice-chairman.

Summer training offered for cross-country skiers

Maine high school skiers and their coaches interested in getting together for a day of training and socializing are invited to attend one of three training days to be held in Maine on the last Sunday of each month.

The informal sessions are open to cross-country skiers and coaches of all abilities. They are intended to be a forum for exchanging training and technique information. Activities will include technique, cycling, running and cross country skiing.

June 25, meet at the state highway rest area at the junction of Route 2 and the Sunday River Road. Activities will include hiking and/or roller skiing. For more information, contact Kirk Siegel at Gould Academy, 824-2161.

July 30, meet at Maranacook Community School on Route 17 in Readfield for a low-key bike ride and/or roller ski. For more information, contact Steve DeAngelis, 684-4598.

Aug. 27, meet at Northern Lights Ski School in Farmington. High School athletes who are already involved in intensive fall sports practices will enjoy a low-intensity day of roller ski technique and training instruction.

All sessions will begin at 9 a.m. Participants should bring a bag lunch and plenty of liquids to drink.

V.A. COUNSELOR IN NORWAY

David A. Redford, who is the new veterans counselor in the Legislative offices of the State Bureau of Veterans Services, will be in Norway on June 7, at the Norway National Guard Armory on Elm Street, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. He will assist veterans and dependents of veterans in filing for any V.A. or state veteran's benefit to which they may be entitled. He is in Norway on the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

THANK YOU

To Rev. Rust for the very nice service at the grave for Leonard Kimball. To my family, Leonard's family and many friends who attended.

Also thanks so much for the flowers and all the food that was given. Thanks to Albany Church for the lovely plant.

Thanks to God for the beautiful day. God bless you all.

MOVING ALONG THE RUNNER—Telstar's Kristen Cushman lays down a sacrifice bunt in action against Dirigo last week. However, a late-inning Cougar rally edged the home team, 11-9, ending a five-game win streak. The Rebels, 12-3 on the season, head into playoff action next week, where they'll probably have a chance for revenge against the Cougars, their likely first-round opponent.

Tenants at the Manor have been planting their flower gardens.

Edith Smith's niece, Blanche Eltscher, drove her to Rumford on Thursday for a doctor's appointment.

Catherine McGuire and daughter Gloria Madison spent the weekend at the farm.

Florence Hall has received, from a new-found cousin, Marcelle Marston Wakefield, Joliet, Ill., many very old items made by their great and great-grandmothers. There are quilts and linens, all hand-made in the 1800s.

Thought for the day: Of all the things you wear, your expression is the most important.

JAZZ CONCERT THURSDAY

The "Friends of Jazz," a jazz combo featuring trombonist Tim Sessions, of Temple, will present a concert at Oxford Hills High School on Thursday, June 1, at 7 p.m., in the auditorium. This public concert is being held in conjunction with "RazzleDazzle," a two-day enrichment program held at the Guy E. Rowe School.

The program involves all the students at the school and in addition to the "Friends of Jazz," the "Energize us" dancers and the "Oxford Hills High School Jazz Ensemble," well known author, artist, teacher, and storyteller Ashley Bryan is in residence at the school for the two-day event.

All are invited to the "Friends of Jazz" concert. Donations will be accepted to defray expenses.

"God's word," II Tim. "The sure foundation of God."

Closing hymn: "Room at the cross for you."

After the service a dinner was served.

Our thanks to Tina Farrington for the decorations, using the school colors, the cake which was decorated to honor them and all the others who made this so colorful.

June 4, as of this date, the Sunday morning service and junior church will be from 9:30-10:30 a.m. followed by coffee and donuts.

Vacation Bible School, June 26-30, 9-11:30 a.m. with the closing program June 30 at 5:30-6:30 p.m.

Drawing June 14 for moose permits

Maine's 1989 moose hunters will be determined at a public drawing on Wednesday, June 14, at the Augusta State Armory.

Nine hundred Maine residents and 100 non-residents will have their applications selected from a total expected to exceed 75,000, according to the Maine Fish and Wildlife Department.

The drawing will begin at 5:30 p.m., preceded by loading and mixing of application cards in a rotating drum.

The department will again use young volunteers from the audience to pick the winners.

The deadline was April 28 to apply for a permit for the Oct. 16-21 hunt, which is held annually in northern, western and eastern portions of the state.

June 28, Missionary Jerry Mattson will be with us at 7:30 p.m.

News from Woodstock School

From the desk of the principal:
The Woodstock Elementary School curriculum fair held on Wednesday, May 24, was wonderful. There were projects representing each area of the curriculum. I wish to thank all students and their parents for the hard work which was contributed to make this curriculum fair the successful event it turned out to be.

May 25 and 26 was the 5th Grade trip to Boston. We have been planning, fund-raising and looking forward to this experience for quite some time. Next week, look for a report from the travelers. I'm sure they'll have lots of exciting news to tell us.

We have once again come to the end of the year's activities. It doesn't seem possible that the 1988-89 school year is coming to a close. Please make sure you are reading the events of the week at Woodstock Elementary School to keep up with our busy schedule.

OXFORD POMONA GRANGE

A supper preceded the meeting held at Bear Mountain Grange in South Waterford on Friday, May 26. Oxford Pomona Grange met its May meeting.

Members of the Pink Sash family recognized were Ruby Whitney, member of the State Grange C.W.A., and her husband Clyde; Hazel Conner, State Grange treasurer; Leila and Myrtle Bisbee, delegates; and Gail Butterfield, member of the leatherette's committee.

Anna Woodward, chairman of the legislative committee, spoke on several bills and legislative hearings that were coming up, one of which was to do away with county government. Arland Farrar spoke on a bill for local gun control.

C.W.A. Chairman Lil Swallow reported that the committee had donated prize money for the State Grange sewing contest and had also sent a donation to the hospital chaplaincy. She reminded members of needlework, quilting, tatting and smocking.

Deaf Activities Chairman Bertha Bonot asked members to turn in used hearing aids and batteries and used eyeglasses.

Gel-well cards were signed for Shirley Thomas and Jean Vancouver, and a sympathy card was signed for Linda Jack.

The Youth Committee donated to the State Grange Investment in Youth.

Ponoma members are urged to participate in the foodless food sale, a money raising project to benefit the Grange Cottage at the Hinckley School. Money should be turned in to the Ponoma secretary by June 27.

The lecturer presented the following program, with Lewis Blush giving the address of welcome and Richard Felt the response. Musical selections were performed by Dot Canwell at the piano and Richard Felt on harmonica.

Arland Farrar told a humorous story. Mystery package winners were Elizabeth Bragg, Arland Farrar, Paul Billings, Elizabeth Foster and Cly Whitney. Dot Canwell won the attendance drawing. Marian Bennett read the closing thought, "Trusting," and the Grange joined in singing "God be with you."

There were 49 in attendance, with Franklin Grange, Bryant Pond, winning the attendance banner.

The memorial service will be presented at our next meeting, June 6.

Bethel Bancorp posts record profits for year

Jim Delamater, president and CEO of Bethel Bancorp, announced that the company achieved record earnings for its fiscal year ending April 30.

Net income for the year ending April 30, 1989 was $1,060,514, or $2 per share, versus $898,850, or $1.70 per share, for the year ended April 30, 1988. This represents an 18.8% increase.

Net income for the fourth quarter ending April 30, 1989 was $272,500, or $2 per share, versus $221,557, or $2.42 per share for the same period last year. These results have Bethel Savings Bank F.S.B., a wholly owned subsidiary of Bethel Bancorp, ranked among the top performing savings banks in the country.

"Core earnings and overall asset quality continue to be strong, and management is very optimistic about the future," Mr. Delamater said.

Bethel Bancorp, which trades on the NASDAQ system under the symbol BTB, has yet to declare a $2 per share in dividends to stockholders.

Bethel Savings Bank F.S.B. is an FDIC-insured federal savings bank with its main office in Bethel and branches in Harrison, South Paris and Rumford.

Chamber sponsors beautification contest; part of Maine Street 90

All businesses in the Bethel area are invited to put their best effort into beautifying their properties this summer.

The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce, in conjunction with Governor's Maine Street 90 campaign—a campaign to encourage community pride—will hold a beautification contest. Businesses, whether they are members of the Chamber or not, who would like to enter, should call the Chamber by June 5, at 624-2928, to register.

The following area greenhouses and garden shops will be offering discounts to those businesses that do register: The Unicorn Flower Shop and Garden Center, Hearty Moms, Pooh Corner Farms and Greenhouses and Mountain Greenery.

The judging, which will be some time the first week of July, will be based on qualities such as overall appeal and work/effort involved. There will be prizes awarded, such as a dinner for two at The Bethel Inn, as well as others.

at Frederick Robie Grange, Otisfield Gore. A 6:30 supper will precede the meeting.

On June 27 we will meet at Bear River Grange, in Norway, for the election of officers, with a supper before the meeting.

Effectively Reduce Blood Pressure

Many of America's 60 million hypertensioners take prescription medicines to help control their blood pressure. These medicines work in a variety of ways to keep the pressure at a reasonable level. Some medicines dilate blood vessels, causing a drop in the pressure. Other types inhibit special nerve receptors located in the brain. A third category includes medicines which reduce blood pressure by affecting either the amount of blood pumped out of the heart or the amount that is pumped back to the heart.

Another category of medicines that effectively reduce high blood pressure are called "ACE inhibitors." These medicines prevent the formation of angiotensin, a substance which tends to raise the blood pressure. ACE inhibitors, such as captopril and enalapril, have received a lot of attention because of their high degree of effectiveness, especially when taken with diuretics. The overall low incidence of side effects for ACE inhibitors is low.

In a study of over 600 men with high blood pressure, those treated with an ACE inhibitor had significantly higher "quality-of-life" scores (e.g., work performance and general well-being) than did those receiving other types of medicines.

Book donations sought to honor Ron Lippitt

The Bethel NTL Liaison Committee, in cooperation with the library, has established a shelf in memory of Ronald Lippitt, educator, pioneer in the study of group behavior and future-oriented planning and friend of Bethel. Prof. Lippitt was one of the founders of the National Training Laboratories (now NTL Institute) which first met in Bethel in 1947. He studied and taught in Bethel every summer for the rest of his life. Future-oriented planning, (he called it "futuring"), was a passion of his later years and his last (and lasting) contribution to the community.

Through a 10-year-old's eyes By ALEX GILLIES

This week we went on two field trips. The first one was on Monday. We ran around getting ready and rode to the Conservation School in Bryant Pond. We were there for 10 days and split into five groups (I can't remember how many). We went with different "classes". A different person taught each class. There was a class on soil, the food web, wildlife and trees. It was fun and I learned a lot.

The second was on Wednesday when we drove for two hours to get there. Half of the people on the bus were asleep. When we got there we broke into groups of five or six. We were divided in half and the half I was in went to a house first. We toured the house seeing what the furniture and their life was like. Then we went to a shop, a barn, a bawershop, a school, a garden shed and a bicycle. Then we had lunch and went home.

The mosquitoes are driving me crazy.

They attack your head, ankles and hands like mad. But they are really slow and

I bet the population of mosquitoes is going down quite quickly. But there are always tons of babies.

Middle School step-up program for parents

We've been busy reviewing basic skills. Activities have been focused on colors, numbers and shapes. Through stories, music and a variety of activities we heightened our awareness of these concepts.

We also went to Gilford to visit the National Guard. The children were really excited and full of anticipation. We enjoyed a lengthy tour of the grounds and buildings. We were introduced to a wide variety of military equipment used by the troops. Five-year-old Ryan Wheeler, who was dressed in camouflage from head to toe, was pinned within minutes of our arrival. We would like to thank parent volunteers Bertha and Doreen for joining us.

The most recent "Star of the Week" was Francis Westleigh Jr. "Frankie" is four years old and lives in Bethel with his parents, Sally and Francis, and his sister,

Sheryl. This is "Frankie's" second year attending the Children's Center.

Obituaries

GEORGIA DALE MACARTHUR

Mrs. Georgia Dale MacArthur, 69, of Gilead, died Saturday, June 25, 1983, at the Androscoggin Valley Hospital, Berlin, N.H., after a brief illness.

She was born in Berlin, N.H., Dec. 25, 1913, the daughter of Louis and Gladys Treameer. She graduated from Berlin High School in the Class of 1938 and had lived in Gilead since 1953. Her husband, Woodrow MacArthur, died in 1982. Prior to her retirement, Mrs. MacArthur was employed at the Newton and Thorne Mill for 22 years. She was a member of the Bethel Senior Citizens.

Surviving are three daughters: Mrs. Faye Palmer of Florida, Mrs. Nancy Valliere of Lumberton, N.C., and Mrs. Beverly Brown of Sabattus; a sister, Mrs. Ava Tyler of Gorham, N.H.; 12 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held May 28 in the Chapel of the Bryant Funeral Home, Berlin, N.H. Interment was in the Gilead cemetery.

Births

Robert and Darlene Pilgrim Jr., of Bethel, are pleased to announce the arrival of a baby girl, Jennell Elizabeth Pilgrim, born on May 20 at 6:29 a.m. at Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway, weighing 9 lbs., 6 ozs.

Maternal grandparents are Joan Boutchua, of Lynn, Mass., and William Boutchua, of El Paso, Texas. Paternal grandparents are Robert Pilgrim Sr., of Bethel, and Shirley Pilgrim of Lynn, Mass.

Jennell joins brothers Robert, 5 years old, and William, 3 years old.

Jill and David Bennett, of Miami, Ind., announce the birth of their daughter, Rachel Ann, May 8. Maternal grandparents are Jacqueline and Robert Swanson of Goshen, Ind. Paternal grandparents are Kathy and Richard Bennett, of Albany.

IN CEREMONIES AT LOCKE MILLS, members of the Jackson-Silver Post of the American Legion led a parade through the center of the village, winding up at the honor roll. There, Auxiliary President Norene Russo placed a wreath at the memorial. Following that, Auxiliary Chaplain Fannie Cummings threw a bouquet of lilacs into the mill stream behind the honor roll in memory of those servicemen lost at sea.
